Mission Day And Ordination

Service at Cave Spring Church.

There were many sad hearts in the neighborhood, of Cave Spring church when they awoke on Sunday morning, July 11th, to find it raining. That being the day set apart by that church to hold mission and ordination services.

As the day wore on, the clouds would seem to disperse and then in a few moments the rain would patter down.

A very large crowd had been expected, but owing to the inclemency of the weather, the house was not more than half filled. At 11 a. m., the Pastor, W. R. Gibbs, delivered an able sermon on the subject of "Missions," after which collection was taken, amounting to $30.00, notwithstanding the small congregation.

At 2:30 p. m., after song and devotional service, a Presbytery was organized, composed of Elder J. J. Franks, mod. Elder U. G. Hughes, Clerk, and W. R. Gibbs, to ordain to the office of Deacon, Phillip H. Hughes and Guy W. Myers. The examination was conducted by U. G. Hughes, the ordination prayer by W. R. Gibbs, the laying on of hands by Presbytery, the charge to the candidates was delivered by J. J. Franks, the charge to the church by U. G. Hughes, song and right hand of fellowship by Presbytery and congregation. Notwithstanding the fact we were principally all Baptist, we submitted to sprinkling when partaking of the bountiful dinner prepared by the sisters of that community.

Mr. Trail, who had charge of the song service, rendered excellent music with his choir.

The day was enjoyed very much by all present.

TAXES DUE.

The state and county taxes are now due and to relieve the sheriff of a great responsibility, should be paid at once. On December 1, I, as sheriff of Crittenden county, am required to settle with the state, and if I should fail to collect these taxes it would work a hardship on me as well as my bondsmen, to have to pay your taxes. So come up at once and settle your taxes promptly. Do not wait for the penalty, or even a nearness to it, but pay them now if you possibly can.

In the near future I will have appointments for myself or one of my deputies for each precinct and to meet us at the designated time and place to receive a clear receipt for your taxes, will aid your sheriff more than you may perhaps imagine.

Now, as my whole desire is to try to collect the taxes for this year without a single levy, or even penalty, I again urge you to aid me in this by coming to these places or to my office at Marion and settling same.

Hoping every tax payer of Crittenden county will aid me by an early settlement of the common burden wrestling upon all in proportion as God has blessed him;

I am yours very respectfully.

J. G. ASHER, S. C. C.

OUR MERCHANTS

The Liberal Use of Printers Ink Is Bringing Good Results.—Five Full Pages Last Week.

The live, wide-a-wake merchants of Marion are reaping a rich harvest and, too, during the dull season of the year, and all because they keep the needs of the people in stock and advertise what they keep. A liberal use of printers' ink is not thrown away on an appreciative people. A page add may not interest one man when it is just what the other fellow is looking for. The good housewife does not feel interested in one merchant add while she is deeply so in another, but she reads all of them just the same.

Montgomery, Ward & Co., and Sears & Roebuck advertise their goods else the people would not be guilty of sending money out of the State for goods, that in many instances, they could have bought cheaper at home.

Keep what these mail-order houses keep and let the people know you keep them as they will have little excuse for sending hard-earned money out of the State for cheap goods. Our merchants are enterprise, business men, who, both want and need your trade. They buy your produce, giving you for it in many instances, more than you could get for it away from home, saving you the freight, and surely you should patronize the people that buy your surplus. These mail-order houses tell you what they have and very frequently, as well as unfortunately, you buy of them. But just send them an ad, setting forth the fact that you have chickens, ducks, geese, turkeys, butter and eggs for sale and they will laugh you to scorn.

Stand by your home merchants. They are your friends and you can be theirs.

How do you think it looks for you to ask your home merchant for credit and turn from him to an unappreciative stranger to spend your money? Surely you should not send your money to merchants who would not credit you for a dime.

Come to Marion, new things are happening, a new era is being lived and the good old town is on a boom.

That Article 5, Section 11, be amended as follows:

The district board shall exercise a general supervision over all the affairs of the association. Shall take all contracts for the handling and sale of all tobacco. Shall receive and disburse the proceeds of all sales. Shall have power to employ sub-agents in the management of the business as they may deem advisable, except graders and book keepers. They are to be appointed by the county board of their respective counties. All graders must be tobacco growers.

The following to be added to Section 2: No officer of the county or district board shall hold any other position of profit or remunerative agency while serving as a member of said board.

Dixon, Ky., July 26th, 1909.—The changes that the tobacco growers of the Stemming-District Association want make in the constitution and by-laws of said association.

Article six (6) shall be amended and read as follows:

All questions coming before the district board for settlement, shall be decided by a majority vote of the members present and in case of a tie the general manager shall cast a deciding vote, and the remainder of said article shall be stricken from said by-laws.

Added to said constitution as follows:

1st. That the chairman of each county shall call a meeting the first Saturday in October of each year in each magisterial district, and let the tobacco growers who have their tobacco in the pool set the price they are to receive for their tobacco.

2nd. That the committee then meet the second Saturday in October and fix the price on the tobacco grown in the county by prices fixed by different magisterial districts meeting.

3rd. That the executive committee then meet the third Saturday in Oct. and fix the price on the tobacco of the Stemming District by the price fixed by the growers of the county's composing said district.

4th. That the buyers of tobacco, shall be notified of the price set on the tobacco and if said tobacco is not sold by the 20th, of Nov. it shall not be sold until it has been put in the boghead.

550 Hogheads go to an English Purchaser at Committee's Price.

[BY JAMES N. BANKS.]

Manager William Elliott has closed a deal with an English purchaser whereby five hundred and fifty hogheads of Association tobacco—all put up at Sebree—is sold to go over the water.

I write it five hundred and fifty hogheads when for utmost accuracy I should record it as from five hundred to five hundred and fifty hogheads, the product of two Sebree factories.

All I am permitted to say in regard to the price is simply this: The price is that named by the Executive Committee of this Association, and will yield to holders of Sebree warehouse receipts the face value thereof, plus a dividend. The English purchasers stipulate that prices shall not be published until they have an opportunity to market their purchases.

The sale will realize for the Association from sevety-five thousand to eighty-five thousand dollars.

It gives me unalloyed satisfaction to report this sale to the good and loyal members of this Association who are so patient and uncomplaining when sales are delayed.

"Any prospects for further sales?" I plumped at Manager Elliot.

"Tell the good members prospects are good," he answered.

This ware is made to match the quality of the Majestic Ranges, and we know all ladies will see the beauty and utility of this Set, especially the first three pieces, which are entirely new and cannot be had alone by purchase, except at a very high price. The prices of Majestic Ranges are the same, but we give the set FREE with each Majestic Range BOUGHT DURING DEMONSTRATION WEEK ONLY.

REASONS WHY THE GREAT MAJESTIC YOU SHOULD BUY

- 1st. It has the reputation of being the best Range money can buy.
- 2nd It not only has the reputation, but is the best range made, and we will prove this to you if you will let us.
- 3rd It is constructed of Malleable iron, material you can't beat, and of Charcoal Iron-material that resists rust 300 per cent. greater than steel-, is riveted together air-tight No heat escapes or cold air enters range thus uses very little fuel to do perfect work.
- 4th The reservoir alone is worth the price of the range over any other reservoir made. It boils 15 gallons of water; is heated like a tea-kettle, with pocket against left-hand lining, and is movable and sets on a frame, hence cannot wear out. When water gets too hot it can be moved away from fire.

Majestic Ranges use less fuel; heat more water--and heat it hotter; costs practically nothing for repairs; last three times as long; bake better; easier to keep clean and gives better satisfaction than any other range on the market. If you knew positively that the above statements were true, wouldn't you buy a Majestic at once? Come In During Demonstration week and we will prove it to you:

We are authorized to announce
as a candidate for re-election to the office of Circuit Judge of the Fourth Judicial District of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Preachers and Newspaper Editors and Correspondents are not the only fools in the world. Did you ever think of that? There are others! And sometimes they talk out on the street. I overheard two of them the other day: talking about Masons and Dixons line. Both of them had "Bug House" qualities that made them eligible to membership in the Gimlet Club. They thought that Mason and Slidell was a misprint. Should have been Mason and Dixon, and they thought of Charlie Mason as an old man with Horace Greeley whiskers and a brace of Andrew Jackson's horse pistols standing on one side of the line while Jeremiah Dixon with a horse tail mustache and a Spanish Machette stood on the other side. Both showing their teeth. It was a red line, drawn directly from Cape May to the mouth of the Gila river, with cuckle burs growing on one sides and Canada Thistles on the other and the underbrush along, on both sides alive with scorpions, snakes, lizards and Gila monsters. These fellows that I overheard were the kind that take out their whet rocks and sharpen up their razors regularly and go after folks with blood in their eyes. Bad men from Boddy, as it were.

Hearing them talk put me to wondering what the rest of us know about the imaginary line to which John Randolph gave the celebrity is still retains,—for this line is really imaginary. The real Mason and Dixons Line is the boundary that separates Pennsylvania and Maryland and it was surveyed by Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon, English Surveyors between the years 1763 and 1767, except 22 miles surveyed later by McClellan. When Mason and Dixon came to Dunkards Creek, at a spot now in Green County Pennsylvania the Indians shined their tomahawks in their faces and said, "We've got all this Mason and Dixon business we want", and the surveyors had to hike for tall timber. Later McClellan finished the job, as far as it went, and then John Randolph extended the thing indefinitely without compass or chain carrier. What a pity that these Indians did not scalp a lot of other fellows who afterwards stirred up ghemba, about Mason and Dixons and McClellan and the imaginary line that grew out of it.

The compasses used in these surveys were made by David Rittonhouse Philadelphia, who made three copies and went into liquidation. One of these compasses was used by George Washington, a young surveyor of the time, another was used by McClellan and the other by Mason and Dixon. The Washington Compass is in the museum at Washington and possibly the one used by Mason and Dixon.

Though I have an impression that it is in the British Museum, London.

The compass used by McClellan is now owned by a man at Maysontown Pennsylvania, where live several of the Rittonhouse descendants, but not one of them has ever dared make another compass. They as a family are out of the compass business. This McClellan compass was afterwards used to lay off the city of Allegheny which is now a part of Greater Pittsburgh.

But the men I heard talking about the Mason & Dixons line knew as much about it and as much about compasses as the average man about the pet subject with which he delights to make the air blue when he can find a fool willing to listen to him. Did you ever meet this fellow? No. Then go out on the street and hunt him up. He is on the next corner. Strike him on politics or his "church creed", and here him hum. Without having read a line of any platform or creed he will strive to convince you that what he don't know on the subject would not make a Zulu a priser.

Thanks Bro. Oakley. The great compliment you pay us together with splendid treatment and great volume of business given us by the splendid citizenship of Marion and Crittenden County, touches a tender spot in our heart. Having worked side by side with you for a year we know you to be a deserving christian gentleman, worthy in every way, of all the good things the people of the splendid town of Clay and Webster county can do for you. You are making them a good paper and as a return compliment, will say we are proud of the efforts you are putting forth to give Clay the best paper she ever had.

Watchman what of the night? Taking the past twenty years as an example, what may we expect in the next twenty years? Industries have arisen and developments made that has brought the county of Crittenden to the front in the lead, zinc and fluor spar industry, but not by any means what it should be. The people are resting on their ears instead of boldly and bravely pulling through the breakers and establishing a Light House, from the tower of which the enemy can be seen at a sufficient distance to protect the good county from danger. The wealth of Crittenden is untold, just enough having been developed to give but the faintest idea of what is really hidden under her hills and valleys. Are the people of the county using their "talents" wisely? Are they putting them out to the best advantage? They, for instance would like to another see railroad running through her richest mineral lands. But would it not be wiser to advocate the building of a turnpike through these principal districts instead? Railroads have been known to prove a curse instead and to make wrecks of some of the best towns in the state, when a turnpike or a gravel road would be enjoyed by the whole county. No railroad corporation is going to build a road without first counting the cost, and when built it will be for their benefit and not for the people. First they will know approximately how many tons of ore would or could be mined along its line, and if the quantity proved sufficient, the road would be built; and doubtless the one dollar per ton paid Crittenden county teams for hauling to Marion, would be expected by the railroad, which would take about enough money out of the county to build a gravel road on which the ore could be brought to Marion or some other railroad or river point at half the price and keep our money at home. A good suggestion would be, to invite capitalists to the county who are able to develop their mineral lands, advocate turnpikes, gravel or train roads and they will help build them. On a good gravel road the whole county can enjoy and reap a harvest from it, where a railroad would prove a "bleeder" instead of a "feeder". Let the people of Crittenden county build a gravel road through the county as a test and it would pay the investment, we venture, in but a few years and the money kept within its borders. Things more difficult, and at greater risk have been done. Crittenden has it in her power to double her wealth in the next ten years. Will she do it?

The Record-Press, of Marion, put on quite a different appearance last week under the management of N. E. Calmes, of Sturgis, who has leased the paper and plant for a term of seventeen months, last weeks issue of the paper being the first under the new management. Mr. Calmes has shewed the "quill" on quite a number of publications, and while he takes charge of our home paper, and one that has withstood the storms of more than thirty-one years, we wish it, together with Mr. Calmes, a greater epoch of prosperity than it has enjoyed at any time in its history.—Webster County Times.

Thanks Bro. Oakley. The great compliment you pay us together with splendid treatment and great volume of business given us by the splendid citizenship of Marion and Crittenden County, touches a tender spot in our heart. Having worked side by side with you for a year we know you to be a deserving christian gentleman, worthy in every way, of all the good things the people of the splendid town of Clay and Webster county can do for you. You are making them a good paper and as a return compliment, will say we are proud of the efforts you are putting forth to give Clay the best paper she ever had.

THE Crittenden Record-Press of Marion, which by the way is one of Kentucky's best weekly papers, has changed hands, and with N. E. Calmes as its new editor and publisher, it is safe to say that many improvements will be readily and persistently noticed with much interest every issue. Mr. Calmes is one of the State's best and most versatile writers, and with natural get-up-and-hustle proclivities, we bespeak for the Record-Press a bright and rosy future. Mr. Calmes was formerly editor and publisher of the Sturgis News-Democrat, and we are glad he is again in the newspaper field. With five full page ads. in this week's issue, we are quite sure of his being well pleased with his new field of labor. Luck to you and your liberal patronage Brother Calmes. Mr. Marshal Jenkins, the retiring editor and publisher of the Record-Press will devote his time and talent to his valuable business interests. We, who know him to be one of our best newspaper friends, regret his retirement from the newspaper field, but his choice, is our will, and we wish him unbounded success in his future business pursuits.—Princeton Leader.

A Compliment like the above, from one of the best twice-a-week papers in Kentucky makes the editor in his new home, feel good. Thank you Bros. Catlett. We shall try God helping us to hold the old Record-Press to the highest standard of Kentucky Journalism that our friends may never regret the many nice things they have said about us.

The Crittenden Record-Press has changed hands, N. E. Calmes now having control. We say it without fear of successful contradiction, Mr. Calmes is one of the best newspaper men in Western Kentucky and in order that you may be sure that we are right in this assertion, we advise you to notice the Record-Press for a few weeks. He will "make her hum" and don't you forget it.—Dixon Journal.

Thank you, Bro. Rakes. It is nice to receive such compliments and we appreciate it from you the more because of your stand against whisky and the desecration of the Sabbath. Your paper is clean and the people of your grand old county should be proud of it.

Editor N. E. Calmes, formerly of the Sturgis News-Democrat, has leased the Crittenden Record-Press as published at Marion, Ky., for one year and will give the people of the adjoining Kentucky county a good, lively home paper. Just give Bro. Calmes your unstinted support good people, over there, and our word for it, he will do the rest. He is an affable gentleman, versant, and conversant and being a fluent, talented writer, should please any community. The one fault with him is, too good for his own good, financially. For he will divide his last dollar with the needy even though he may need it himself.—Hardin Era.

Thank you Bro. Jackson for this nice compliment. Knowing your reputation to be that of a thorough, honest Christian gentleman, the compliment is the more appreciated.

MINING AS AN INVESTMENT OR AS A GAMBLE.

We feel some hesitation about so often decrying the inducements that are held out to lead investors into mining enterprises. We should not do so did we not think it to the advantage of the real mining industry to have a correct understanding of the conditions. This is distinctly to the advantage of the engineering profession and the class of operators who are engaged in serious mining, who are the members of the mining industry that we specially represent. They and we are anxious to see mining regarded in the same way that manufacturing and real estate enterprises are considered, conducted and valued. We want to see the elimination of the irresponsible and ignorant promoters, fakers and visionaries. If the public does not squander its money among them there will be more for legitimate purposes.

The offerings of mining investments to the public may be classified under five heads, as follows:

1. Developed mines, whereof the ore-bodies actually disclose, promise definitely a return of the principal and an adequate interest (at least 6 per cent.) upon it in the meanwhile, the data as to ore reserves being furnished by engineering reports of the highest character. Individuals or small partnerships are seldom able to afford the expense of developing such properties, or the engineering advice that is required, and in performing those things the development companies and banking houses perform a useful function for which they are legitimately entitled to profit.

Mining investments offered under such auspices are of the highest class and are especially attractive inasmuch as the ore-bodies are seldom delimited and there is frequently a chance for enhancement in the value of the principal. Nevada Consolidated and Miami were shining examples of this kind of mining investment.

2. Developed mines, whereof the ore-bodies promise good dividends for a longer or shorter time, but whereof the return of the principal is slurred over, or not talked about at all—perhaps on the theory that the devil will take the hind-most—the chief purpose of the promoters, backers and managers being to affect a distribution of the stock. We refrain from citing any examples of this class, but feel free to express the opinion that the majority of the names that are well known in Boston and New York come under it.

3. Good prospects, whereof nothing definite can be said except that there are promising chances for making a mine. Sometimes the hopes are realized and we have a Trimountain or Ahmeek, which pay the original investors 50 or 100 for 1. Such returns are those to feel proudest about, but they are conspicuous by their infrequency. The development of the good prospects usually falls into the hands of the development companies and banking houses and they are eventually present to the public under class 1.

4. Developed mines of doubtful profit. (There are many operators who are honestly ignorant that there mines are really losing money, all things considered.) Some of these are good little properties when regarded on a proper basis of capitalization. Mines of this class from the investment standpoint merge into those of class 2.

5. Wildcats. These are advertised in the newspapers, and present reckless claims and glittering generalities. Reports by reputable engineers are always absent. The blood suckers who father these things take the money of sempstresses, servant girls, small tradesmen and fools. We heard of a man who bought 100 shares of every mining company that he saw advertised in the newspapers. He said, "It may be good. So it may.

"By wondrous accident perchance one may
Grope out a needle in a load of hay;
And though a white crow be exceed rare,
A blind man may, by fortune, catch a hare."

The possibility is amply exemplified by the original bringing out of Greene Consolidated. But as we think over the thousands and thousands of similar promotions for ten years before and after we can recall no other. Our friend would have had a better chance in buying lottery tickets. An idea of breaking the bank at Monte Carlo would have been conservative by comparison. Seriously we need a law that will prevent the circulation by newspapers of advertisements that are chiefly designed to catch suckers.

Newton Utley Ordered to Appear in Federal Court.

Former State senator Newton Utley, of Lyon county, has been summoned to appear tomorrow in the federal court here and show cause why persists in trying his damage suit against Henry Bennett, et al, in the circuit court of Lyon county, after it had been ordered transferred to the United States court.

Utley was sued among others by Henry Bennett, now of Illinois, on account of a night rider outrage at Dysersburg, Crittenden county, in February, 1909, when Bennett was whipped and his barn burned. Utley declared he had no connection with night riders or the raid, and there was no intimation that he had done more than participate in a general night rider conspiracy. Utley brought suit against Bennett and his attorneys Flexer & Campbell and Geo. DuBelle, Louisville; Campbell & Campbell, Paducah; and Carl Henderson, Marion, for $50,000 damages, alleging the fact that he was named among the alleged night riders for the purpose of extorting money from him.

Bennett, being now a citizen of Illinois, moved to transfer the suit to federal court, and an order was entered by Judge Evans. Recently Utley notified the defendants that he would have the case called at the August term of the Lyon circuit court, and injunction proceedings were instituted in federal court to restrain the prosecution.

LEVIES ON LAND.

Under direction of attorneys for the negroes, who secured $50,000 damages against night riders, who raided Birmingham, Marshall county, Deputy United States Marshal Elwood Noel levied on Alfred Chaudet's undivided interest in 160 acres of land near Birmingham. It is reported the men around Birmingham appeared in an ugly mood, and talk of shotgun law was indulged in.—Paducah Sun.

A Large Tomato.

Senator P. S. Maxwell brought a very fine tomato to this office Thursday, of the tree variety, that measured 17½ inches in circumference and weighed 31 ounces, or in one ounce of two pounds. Surely this is a fine specimen to have been grown by a bachelor. The largest one, Senator Maxwell said, fell from the stem before maturity and would, he thinks, have weighed three pounds.

Miss Mabel Kevil brought to us a beautiful specimen of her crop of tomatoes, two of them, and from the same stem. They were extremely large and perfect in shape.

HERE'S ONE FOR OLLIE.

Washington, July 29.—Representative Ollie James has received notice that the Democratic Congressional Committee will order 100,000 copies of his income tax speech for distribution throughout the country as a campaign document.

WANT HIM AGAIN.

Sturgis, Ky., July 26.—Rev. J. C. Midett for the past year has served the Ohio Valley College as its president and the Sturgis Baptist church as its pastor. His work in both places has been excellent and it is almost the unanimous opinion of Sturgis people if Dr. Midett had been in charge of the Ohio Valley College from the beginning we would now have a college here the equal of any in the state. His work at the college has been so appreciated by the board of trustees that at a meeting to day they called him for another year, asking that all his time be given to the college.

EDITORIAL NOTE.—Rev. J. C. Midett is one of the best qualified men to be placed in charge of or at the head of a college it has been our pleasure to meet. When he took charge of the O. V. College at Sturgis, he went to work with a determination that crowned his work with success and today this institution bids fair to rival any in the state in a very few years. He is industrious and honest in every effort he puts forth for the upbuilding of this great Baptist school.

The heart of Mrs. J. F. Flanary was made glad Monday morning when presented with a fine baby boy. Wise, thoughtful old stork indeed in making the selection of a boy that the fond mother and wife named for her late departed husband, J. F. Flanary. The sweet little fellow's advent proved a happy occasion for the numberless friends of the late departed sheriff of Crittenden county. May the God who saw fit to take away his good father lead the little one in the path of righteousness for His name's sake and allow his good mother the happiness of seeing him grow and develop into noble manhood.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Moore was made bright by the advent Monday of a bright boy.

Left For Louisville.

Mr and Mrs. J. E. Wright left Friday morning for their home in Louisville. Mr. Wright is a practical mine engineer, representing a large amount of Louisville capital invested in the lead, zinc and fluor spar mines in Crittenden county, in which he is himself a stockholder. Mr. and Mrs. Wright were a popular couple with the people of Marion, who are sorry indeed to part with them for even the short period they will reside in Louisville.

DOUBLE HEADER

Goes to Morganfield.—Both Were Hotly Contested From Start To Finished.

Morganfield came to Marion last week, and took both games from our boys, by a combination of good luck and good playing on their part. It was disappointing to Marion fans to drop both these games, but we don't suppose we feel any worse than they did when we gave them the same dose over there. At least they were good games, hard fought and worth the money to see them; both of them anybody's game until the last put-out. Two such games as these were, are seldom seen in towns this size.

Morganfield certainly demonstrated that they have a good team, that can play good ball on occasions; their playing in these two games was 200 per cent better than in the former games with Marion. Their playing was good enough to win nine games out of ten; we can partly console ourselves by the thought that even with that, they had to have all the luck to win—and luck will not win every game.

Whatever good opinion Marion has of Morganfield's good ball playing, we cannot say anything for their fairness and sportsmanship. The exhibition that the Morganfield management and fans gave Friday, in the squabble over the umpire, was a disgrace to the team and Morganfield—nothing less. Their attitude was unsportsmanlike, unfair and of the kind that brings discredit upon the sport of baseball more than anything else. Briefly stated, it was this, and if they can get anything else to describe their attitude, we would like to know what it is: when Marion went to Morganfield to play, they selected the umpire, for both games, and Marion accepted their choice without argument or question. When they came here to play, they not only refused to accept our choice, but refused to choose for themselves any umpire out of Marion, and threatened to call off the games unless they could put in an umpire of their own choice. A compromise was finally made, solely on Marion's part because the management did not wish to disappoint the large crowd gathered to see the game. According to every custom of amateur games, Marion was entitled to select the umpire; the man selected was one whom we challenge any team who has played under his umpiring to bring the least charge of unfair dealing. But because Morganfield was determined to win at all costs, she argued and blustered until Marion, rather disgustedly, gave in. We do not believe that the fair minded people of even Morganfield would have defended the actions of their management in this case; we do not see how any fair minded person could. Marion is not even thinking of claiming that we were beaten out of the game by the umpire; it is true that there was one close decision, largely instrumental in the result, but we were satisfied with the work of Mr. Wallace, and have no complaint to make against him. But unless Morganfield wants to get the reputation of trying to win, by foul means if fair will not succeed, she had better cut out such actions as were displayed here Friday.

THE GAMES.

Friday's game was largely one of luck. Marion out-hit Morganfield more than two to one, but Morganfield's drives came with men on bases, and Marion did not. A little bad base running in the third inning lost two scores for Marion, when two were on bases and none out, both being caught trying to steal. Morganfield scored in the third, when Laughlin reached first on an error stole second, and came home on Holycross hit; again in the ninth Burroughs reached first on an error, stole second, and scored on G. Taylor's single. Marion's run, the only earned run of the game, came when Taylor and Cummins doubled to the right field fence in succession, in the fourth. Cooperrider out pitched Holycross at all points, as the summary will show.

Cooperrider pitched for Madisonville against Morganfield Monday, at Madisonville, and Morganfield was beaten, 3, to 1, largely by his excellent work. Holycross pitched for Morganfield, and was again clearly outclassed.

Morganfield's claim to the championship of Western Kentucky, (and they even said all of Kentucky), was a little premature, as the result of their game against Madisonville showed. Morganfield will please remember that so far they have an even break with Marion and with Madisonville, and have not met Princeton. They are some distance from that championship yet. And three games out the last ten played with Marion is a somewhat small percentage of wins to make such a fuss over.

Marion may be in the bushes, but she was able to send a pitcher to Madisonville to down the mighty and chesty Morganfield team.

No wonder Morganfield does not love a school tournament. They like nothing in which they can not win, by some means or other.

The funny bone of the editor of the Morganfield Sun is tickled. Read carefully these few comments:

"Many of the people from Morganfield came home with cricks in their necks caused from gazing up at the skyscrapers. The trees down there are very high."

Not so, Charlie, it was the rot-gut whisky they brought with them. The wonder is they did not see snakes and have Jim-jams instead of cricks.

"Who used his arm? Cooperrider. Who used his head? Holycross. Consequently, who shed tears? Cooperrider."

If Cooperrider shed any tears, he shed them in dire pity for the drunken crowd from Morganfield that paraded the streets of Marion all night, using language unprintable. The crowd failed to respect the elegant men and ladies who come with them and who were witnesses to the utter disregard for Marion and citizens.

To show Cooperrider's superiority over the Morganfield team, he defeated them at Madisonville Monday by a score of 3 to 1.

Morganfield went to Madisonville Monday with their boisterous rooters and attempted to run over everybody rough shod, as they did at Marion, but a stop was soon to see the hand-writing on the wall. Cooperrider was the "good Daniel" that was able to read them.

The second game, on Saturday, with Stevens pitching for Marion and Griesse for Morganfield, was won by the latter, 4 to 2. Marion lost because Morganfield bunched nearly all their hits in the fourth inning, scoring all their runs then, and all of them were earned. Another factor was the phenomenal work of the visiting outfield; Hall in center and Burroughs in right had nine put-outs between them. Only three of these were on flies, the others being line drives, which in nine cases out of ten, would all have gone for hits. Four of their catches were on the "circus" order, and two of them were as fine as any game ever produces. Perhaps the fans who saw Saturday's game did not realize it, but they saw finer out field work than most big league teams could produce; it is safe to say that there has been no other game played in the country this year where four such catches were made, were pulled off by Hall and Burroughs in this game. Each of them cut off what seemed certain hits, and at least two of the outs lost two runs each to Marion. If all of Morganfield's team played that sort of ball all the time (which they don't), nothing could beat them, short of Pittsburgh, at least. The visitors' in-field work was very inferior to their outfield, six errors being credited to them, which produced both of Marion's runs. Marion played an errorless game, and had Morganfield's playing all been like that of their outfit, Marion would have scored at least five runs. Goldnamer, Holycross and Quirey each secured two hits. Outside of the fourth inning, Stevens pitched his usual winning game; Griesse was saved from a hammering only by the spectacular work of the outfield behind him; he was hit hard, but not a drive could Marion get past that outfield.

Sees Mother Grow Young.

"It would be hard to overstate the wonderful change in my mother since she began to use Electric Bitters," writes Mrs. W. L. Gilpatrick, of Danforth, Me. "Although past 70 she seems really to be growing young again. She suffered untold misery from dyspepsia for 20 years. At last she could neither eat, drink nor sleep. Doctors gave her up and all remedies failed till Electric Bitters worked such good for her health." They invigorate all vital organs, cure Liver and Kidney troubles, induce sleep, impart strength and appetite. Only 50 cents at Haynes & Taylor and Jas. H. Orme's rug stores.

You May Need It

Ask your doctor about the wisdom of your keeping Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, ready for colds, coughs, croup, bronchitis. If he says it's all right, then get a bottle of it at once. Why not show a little foresight in such matters? Early treatment, early cure.

Many a boy is called dull and stupid, when the whole trouble is due to a lazy liver. We firmly believe your own doctor will tell you that an occasional dose of Ayer's Pills will do such boys a great deal of good. They keep the liver active.
